appreciates in the face of a hostile culture or will he retreat into the mediocrity of a safe white middle class family life Along the way he shares his penetrating observations about race relations in the American north and south about the freemasonry of subterranean black American culture about the emerging bohemian jazz subculture in New York City and about traditions of African American religious music and oratory This book is part of the Standard Ebooks project which produces free public domain ebooks

JAMES WELDON. JOHNSON, 2025-02-15 The book is a moving and unforgettable story of a man caught between two worlds As he reflects on his life he must choose between the privilege of white society and the cultural ties to his African American roots Disabilities of the Color Line Dennis Tyler, 2022-02-15 Rather than simply engaging in a triumphalist narrative of overcoming where both disability and disablement are shunned alike Disabilities of the Color Line argues that Black authors and activists have consistently avowed disability as a part of Black social life in varied and complex ways Sometimes their affirmation of disability serves to capture how their bodies minds and health have been and are made vulnerable to harm and impairment by the state and society Sometimes their assertion of disability symbolizes a sense of commonality and community that comes not only from a recognition of the shared subjection of Blackness and disability but also from a willingness to imagine and create a world distinct from the dominant social order Through the work of David Walker Henry Box Brown William and Ellen Craft Charles Chesnutt James Weldon Johnson and Mamie Till Mobley this book examines how Black writer activists have engaged in an aesthetics of redress modes of resistance that show how Black communities have rigorously acknowledged disability as a response to forms of racial injury and in the pursuit of racial and disability justice

The Colorblind Screen Sarah E. Turner, Sarah Nilsen, 2014 The election of President Barack Obama signaled for many the realization of a post racial America a nation in which racism was no longer a defining social cultural and political issue While many Americans espouse a colorblind racial ideology and publicly endorse the broad goals of integration and equal treatment without regard to race in actuality this attitude serves to reify and legitimize racism and protects racial privileges by denying and minimizing the effects of systematic and institutionalized racism In The Colorblind Screen the contributors examine television OCOs role as the major discursive medium in the articulation and contestation of racialized identities in the United States While the dominant mode of televisual racialization has shifted to a colorblind ideology that foregrounds racial differences in order to celebrate multicultural assimilation the volume investigates how this practice denies the significant social economic and political realities and inequalities that continue to define race relations today Focusing on such iconic figures as President Obama LeBron James and Oprah Winfrey many chapters examine the ways in which race is read by television audiences and fans Other essays focus on how visual constructions of race in dramas like 24, A Sleeper Cell and The Wanted continue to conflate Arab and Muslim identities in post 9 11 television The volume offers an important intervention in the study of the televisual representation of race engaging with multiple aspects of the mythologies developing around notions of a post racial America and the duplicitous discursive rationale offered by the ideology of colorblindness

The Arresting Eye Jinny Huh, 2015-05-04 In her reading of detective fiction and passing narratives from the end of the nineteenth century forward Jinny Huh investigates anxieties about race and detection Adopting an interdisciplinary and comparative approach she examines the racial formations of African Americans and Asian Americans not only in detective fiction from Sherlock Holmes and Charlie Chan to the works of Pauline Hopkins but also in narratives centered on detection itself such as Winnifred Eaton's rhetoric of undetection in her Japanese romances In explicating the literary depictions of race detection anxiety Huh demonstrates how cultural legal and scientific discourses across diverse racial groups were also struggling with demands for racial decipherability Anxieties of detection and undetection she concludes are not mutually exclusive but mutually dependent on each other's construction and formation in American history and culture
