QUESTIONS

The following questions refer to Stanza 1:

The "mist" (line 1) and "smoke" (line 2) are compared to "pus" (line 5); while the "White City Jabavu" (line 3) is compared to a huge "sore" (line 6).

1. Are these comparisons examples of either similes or metaphors? Explain your response in detail.
A simile is used to compare the smoke to pus with the word "as"
The city of Jabavu can be seen as being compared to a giant sore - metaphor
2. Discuss the figurative effectiveness of each of these comparisons. (Find three similarities which they share.)
The mist is compared to pus effectively as both pus and smoke are thick, yellow, disgusting, unhealthy (any other similarities). The city of Jabavu is effectively compared to a sore as like a sore the city is seen as dirty, unhygienic, unhealthy, an unwanted blemish in society, full of pain etc.
3. What emotional impact do these comparisons have on the reader in terms of setting the scene in which the events of the poem will take place?
It creates an uncomfortable feeling in the reader. The images are unsettling.
4. To the politicians in apartheid South Africa, how might White City Jabavu, a sprawling part of Soweto township, been like a "gigantic sore" (line 6)?
It's unwanted. It's a blemish on society. They would rather that it were not there.

The following questions refer to Stanza 2:

Stanza 2 contains only two lines. The two elements being compared here are "our little houses" (line 7) and "fish caught in a net" (line 8).

5. What is the "It" referred to in line 7?
The mist / smoke
6. Discuss the figurative effectiveness of this comparison. What is suggested about the people of Jabavu when the poet compares them to "fish caught in a net" (line 8)?
They are trapped in their circumstances, they cannot escape into better lives, they are suffering, they are cramped together in a confined space.

The following questions refer to Stanzas 3 and 4:

7. What are the "bandanas" (line 10) which the dogs wear?
It's the flesh and blood of the infant
8. Why would the poet describe the dogs with the line "they bared fangs" (line 14), as opposed to "they showed their teeth".
It's much more threatening. It create a scary image. Showing teeth is not threatening.
9. What do the words "leaving a mutilated corpse" (line 17) reveal about the condition of the infant?
The child is dead

The following questions refer to Stanza 5:

10. How does the mother feel about having abandoned the bundle? Substantiate your response with direct reference to the text.
She's sad and crying. The word "glistening" suggests that there are tears streaming down her face.
11. Do you think that the mother to blame for leaving her child? Explain your answer in detail.
(opinion) What the mother did was definitely wrong, but the poet is suggesting that perhaps it is society's fault as society has created the circumstances that lead to the mother's actions. The mother is a victim of political circumstance and she didn't have very many options.

When does a person become disqualified for some or all of the rights associated with full citizenship Who does qualify for rights When mental health workers took Joyce Brown from her home on a New York City sidewalk and hospitalized her against her will she defended herself by asserting her rights to live where she wanted to speak to the press to deride the city s policy and to refuse unwanted psychiatric treatment In theory as a United States citizen Brown possessed rights protecting her from governmental intrusion into her personal life In practice those rights were curtailed at the time of her civil commitment Using the case of Joyce Brown as an example Judith Lynn Failer explores the theoretical legal and practical justifications for limiting the rights of people who are involuntarily hospitalized By looking at the reasons why law and theory say that some people diagnosed with mental illnesses no longer qualify for the full complement of constitutional rights the author pieces together basic assumptions about who does and who should qualify for rights Failer s analysis is motivated by her concern that people facing involuntary hospitalization stand to lose the most effective means they have of protecting themselves from abuse their rights She concludes that there is insufficient guidance for deciding who qualifies for regular rights and full citizenship Finally the author calls for the use of flexible standards to determine who should and who does qualify for rights

Jesus - Safe, Tender, Extreme Adrian Plass,2009-12-15 Evocative reflections on three facets in our relationship with Jesus People long for reality in their walk with Christ To know him better we must understand the different sides of his complex nature Popular British author Adrian Plass draws on biblical stories and personal experience as well as his keen understanding of people s needs as he explores the Safe Jesus the Tender Jesus and the Extreme Jesus God has told us that he holds us in the palm of his hands where no one and nothing can harm the most important part of us But from biblical times to the present day Christians encounter accidents and disasters What does it really mean to experience the Safe Jesus Jesus tells his disciples that they must love one another Yet time and again we try to find achievement and success through our own efforts and individual gifts only to end in failure Instead we need to know the Tender Jesus who becomes visible when we join with each other in the body of Christ Jesus only did what he saw his father doing Each of his actions and encounters were fueled informed and instructed by the dynamic creative unpredictable Spirit of God Failing to be obedient in this way is what truly constitutes sin When we are open to the genuine leading of the Spirit we will experience the Extreme

Consciousness and the Ontology of Properties Mihretu P. Guta, 2018-07-20 This book aims to show the centrality of a proper ontology of properties in thinking about consciousness. Philosophers have long grappled with what is now known as the hard problem of consciousness: i.e. how can subjective or qualitative features of our experience such as how a strawberry tastes arise from brain states. More recently, philosophers have incorporated what seems like promising empirical research from neuroscience and cognitive psychology in an attempt to bridge the gap between measurable mental states on the one hand and phenomenal qualities on the other. In Consciousness and the Ontology of Properties, many of the leading philosophers working on this issue as well as a few emerging scholars have written 14 new essays on this problem. The essays address topics as diverse as substance dualism, mental causation, the metaphysics of artificial intelligence, the logic of conceivability, constitution, extended minds, the emergence of consciousness and neuroscience, and the unity and neural correlates of consciousness, but are nonetheless unified in a collective objective: the need for a proper ontology of properties to understand the hard problem of consciousness both on non-empirical and empirical grounds.
