Husen, Mohammad Jawaid, 2020-03-06 Nanomaterials for Agriculture and Forestry Applications explores how major nanomaterials are being specially used in the agriculture forestry and other associated sectors. Plants and their products are used for synthesis of nanoparticles as they contain primary and secondary metabolites which reduce the metal salts and metal oxides into their nanoparticles. Exposure of these particles has been examined for their sustainable role and or interaction with agricultural crops in terms of growth and yields. Nanomaterials accumulation and translocation have shown interaction with cellular organelles DNA RNA proteins or other biomolecules and affect various functions of cell organelles. Application of nanosensors holds a significant promise in monitoring signaling pathways metabolism detection of crop soil diseases and specific pollutants or pesticides. Nanomaterials have also been used in soil and water quality management. In forestry sector the nanotechnology is considered as the potential platform which can transform the forest materials into value added products such as smart paper nano packaging coating material building construction and biomedical and other sectors. This book is an important resource showing how nanotechnology is being used to enhance large scale agricultural and or industrial application and production. Discusses the major types of nanomaterials used in the agriculture and forestry sectors exploring how their properties make them effective for specific applications. Human and Animal Sensitivity Fabio Napolitano, 2019-08-13 This book presents cross discipline studies covering aspects ranging from animal science to social consumer sciences and psychology with the aim to collect and disseminate information promoting the continuous enhancement of animal welfare by improving stakeholders perception of animal welfare. Although animal welfare is about how the animals perceive the surrounding environment the actual welfare of the animals is dependent on how the stakeholders perceive and weigh animal welfare. The stakeholders can either directly i.e. through stock people interaction with the animals or indirectly e.g. when retailers and consumers are willing to pay more for high welfare animal based products affect the way animals are kept and handled. Medicinal and Aromatic Plants of the World Ákos Máthé, 2015-09-30 Medicinal and aromatic plants MAPs have accompanied mankind from its very early beginnings. Their utilization has co evolved with homo sapiens itself bringing about a profound increase in our scientific knowledge of these species enabling them to be used in many facets of our life e.g. pharmaceutical products feed and food additives cosmetics etc. Remarkably despite the new renaissance of MAPs usage ca 80 % of the world's population is relying on natural substances of plant origin with most of these botanicals sourced from the wild state. This first volume and ultimately the series provides readers with a wealth of information on medicinal and aromatic plants.
